

If we could find instant traffic and weather on regular radio that would be one thing but when you surf the channels for an hour and you can't find anything out then why wouldn't people want it on XM Radio? Why should we lose out on this information just because the NAB wants more control over things.